

Law

Students navigate the complex regulatory landscape of FinTech, enabling effective management and compliance within the industry.

Data Science

Students are equipped with the skills to leverage data science techniques in the financial industry.

Psychology

The psychology-focused clusters help students develop a deeper understanding of human behavior to effectively manage and lead FinTech teams and organizations.

Management

This cluster equips students with knowledge to effectively lead and manage FinTech ventures and projects.

Industrial attachment and research

This cluster provides practical exposure and focuses on enabling a comprehensive and interdisciplinary FinTech education.

Environment

The financial sector is emphasizing ESG and sustainability to meet customer demand.

MSc-FTM 6 clusters' study